

Where is Berlin, Wisconsin?

Nestled along the shore of the Fox River is your opportunity to escape the pressures of every day life and return to a simpler time and place. Berlin is located a mere 20 miles west of Oshkosh. With a population of 5,300 residents, Berlin was voted best small town in Norman Rockwell's Wisconsin Trails. Berlin gives a feel of days gone by.

Berlin Aquatic Center offers a way to have a great time escaping the summer heat. The newly renovated Longcroft Park includes 900 ft of shoreline with several fishing stations and a paved walkway with many native plants to enjoy. Berlin Locks Park is another favorite spot for many local anglers. Having recently been placed in the National Register of Historic Places, Berlin's Nathan Strong Park has many outstanding Victorian homes nearby; so take a walk and enjoy outside viewing of these beautiful homes.

Enjoy your stay, and be sure to take in all we have to offer whether it is a ball game in the evening, a swim in the pool, boating and fishing on the Fox River, or a leisurely afternoon in historic downtown Berlin.
